

After Your MICRONEEDLING Treatment

- Immediately after your Microneedling treatment you will be red and feel as if you have a mild sunburn.
- Redness will subside in 48 hours, the stinging will subside within 2 hours, and your skin may feel drier than normal.
- On the day of the treatment, you do not need to apply any product to your face.
- Avoid swimming, heavy sweating, and make-up for 12 hours.
- Use a gentle cleanser to clean your face.
- Do not apply active topical creams (like Retinols, Vit C, or Glycolic/Lactic acids) until the healing is complete.
- After the day of treatment, apply a moisturizer and sunscreen daily and as needed.
- Avoid sun exposure for at least 48 hours.
- Your skin will begin a shedding/mild peeling stage approximately 48-72 hours after treatment, treat with additional moisturizer.
- Avoid waxing or chemical peels for 2 weeks.
